D-CENT concept and objectives

D-CENT will...

- ...provide social movements with immediately useable digital tools for direct democracy and economic empowerment
- ...grow long-term alternatives to today's highly centralised platforms and power structures
- ...bring together hackers, academics, and policy makers with a large number of citizen groups and democracy activists across Europe

D-CENT will ...

- ...develop the building blocks of an open, decentralised, privacy-aware Digital Ecosystem
- ...implement a distributed and standardised identity management giving citizens control over their personal and social data
- ...enable real-time collective democratic deliberation and decision making, sharing of open data, and social digital currencies for the common good
- ...promote large-scale adoption of open standards, free software, open data and open APIs

Distributed Social Networking

- User control of personal data in a decentralized ecosystem based on open standards and built on federated social web software and protocols
- Group collaboration and open data crowd-sourcing integration

Citizens empowerment and democracy

- Deliberation by Your Priorities and DemocracyOS + collaborative law making and authentication of Open Ministry + real-time polling and decision making integrating social feedback from citizens

OPEN MINISTRY

Linking civic participation to sustainable economic models

D-CENT Pilots: Iceland, Finland, Spain

Better Reykjavik

Það er orðið tímabært að eitthvað sé hugsað um Hverfisgötu

Gerðu Hverfisgötuna að mannvænlegri götu. Hér er niðamykur og gangstéttir illa farnar. Vantar allan gróður og hlýtt umhverfi. Og hana nú!!!

D-CENT principles

- Citizen ownership of data and access to knowledge
- Security and privacy by design
- Federation, open source, open standards
- Inclusiveness, accessibility, collective governance
- Exploiting the network effect through mass user adoption and replicability across Europe
